

A close-up, slightly blurred photograph of several network cables. The cables are white with their outer jackets stripped back, revealing a bundle of colorful internal wires (red, blue, green, yellow, etc.). The cables are arranged in a way that suggests they are plugged into a network switch or patch panel.

Due to increases in raw materials, energy and freight capacities, we must unfortunately increase our prices by 4.5 % from 1 May 2022.

Dear Business Partner

The dramatic developments of the last weeks and months have driven up costs even further.

Bottlenecks and increases in the cost of raw materials, input materials, energy and freight capacities have led to significantly higher purchase prices.

We therefore have to increase our prices by 4.5 % for all products in our range from 1 May 2022.

We will do our best to exclude orders and framework agreements that have already been confirmed from the price adjustment! Unfortunately, we may have to make further price adjustments in some cases due to the current market situation and extraordinary raw material price developments, even for current orders, of course by agreement.

Thank you for your understanding.
